

JEAN-BAPTISTE DOULCET

Piano

Born in 1992, the versatile French pianist, Jean-Baptiste Doulcet is also an accomplished improviser and composer.

Having being awarded both Fourth Prize and the Audience Award at the Marguerite Long Competition, chaired by Martha Argerich, followed by the Modern Times Award at the Clara Haskil Piano Competition, both in 2019, the French pianist is also the recipient of the Second Prize of the 8th Nordic piano competition and laureate of the Charles Oulmont Foundation.

One of the Rising Stars of the young generation of French pianists (similar in that respect to Alexandre Kantorow and Jean-Paul Gasparian, according to the Classica Magazine), he released his first CD in 2017 with a Beethoven/Schumann programme, which was recorded live together with some improvisations (Les Sphères label). In 2022, his new album, featuring works by Schumann, Liszt and one of his own compositions, was released under the title of Un Monde Fantastique for the Mirare label.

Jean-Baptiste Doulcet performs extensively in France, especially in Paris (Salles Pleyel, Gaveau and Cortot) and highprofile festivals such as La Roque d'Anthéron, La Folle Journée, Lisztomanias, Piano en Valois, Piano aux Jacobins, Chopin Festival in Nohant. Abroad, he regularly appears in Denmark (Aarhus Kammermusik Festival), Sweden (Glafsjordens Festival), in the United States, Germany, Italy and China.

Chamber music is also very much part of his growing career; he enjoys performing with the Oistrakh String Quartet, Augustin Dumay, Alexandre Kantorow, Marc Coppey, Quatuor Hermès, Quatuor Arod, Fédor Roudine, Quatuor Hanson, Aurélien Pascal and Raphaël Sévère, to name but a few.

Jean-Baptiste Doulcet graduated from the Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique de Paris under Claire Désert (piano and chamber music), Thierry Escaich and Jean-François Zygel (improvisation). He also benefited from the guidance of pianists such as Emile Naoumoff, Dmitri Bashkirov, Hortense Cartier-Bresson, Epifanio Comis, Alexey Lebedev ...

He is also a very prolific composer, with no less than twenty works in his catalogue comprising music for solo instruments, chamber music groups and ensembles.
